It's been an absolute joy to make a living, and help others make a living, doing something that is so fun and rewarding – making preschoolers smile. We're grateful for the opportunity to continue spreading joy and learning through our franchise model, and we look forward to many more years of success together.

FRANCHISE NEWS New Owner Training

Photographer Training

We added an extra training session in October this year to welcome our newest franchise owner, Brittany Evans in Mansfield, TX, as well as photographers for growing local teams.

Mpcoming Training

We are thrilled to announce that our next franchise training is scheduled for Jan 8-19, 2024. This is an exciting time for us as we look forward to welcoming our new owners into our family and providing them with everything they need to launch a successful business.

At our training sessions, we cover a wide range of topics that are essential to running a successful franchise. Our experienced trainers will provide in-depth guidance on everything from marketing and sales to customer service and operations.

Valuable Partnership With Local Underserved Preschool

We believe that this partnership is a winwin situation for everyone involved. Our photographers gain valuable experience, the families receive beautiful portraits of their children, and we are able to give back to our community in a meaningful way.

Our franchise training is just the beginning of the journey, and we will continue to provide ongoing support to our franchisees as they grow their businesses.

Mansfield, TX BRITTANY EVANS

We would like to introduce our newest Spoiled Rotten Photography franchise partner, Brittany Evans! Brittany went through franchise training in October and has already photographed Fall and holiday preschool sessions. After finishing training, Brittany said, "I'm so excited! Training was the fastest eleven days of my life, but I learned so much!" She and her husband Rishone just relocated to Mansfield, Texas from Las Vegas, Nevada. Brittany is a former Pre-K teacher and Rishone is the new American history teacher at Jobe Middle School. Her bubbly personality and her love of working with young children makes her a perfect fit in the Spoiled Rotten Photography team! We are loving the beautiful preschool portraits that Brittany has been creating and we are so happy that she has joined our purple family.

LOOKING BACK

To look forward

Watching children, including my own, grow up in front of my camera lens has been the great joy of my life. What is so great about what we do is that we can always look back at those photos and remember them young. Since we are now empty nesting, those moments captured are forever treasures

Here at Spoiled Rotten Photography, we are looking way back! More than just the beginning of 2023. If you've been following us this year, you may have noticed that we are celebrating our 20th year of operations. I know a lot of companies celebrate milestones such as this, but for me personally, there are a lot of emotions and memories tied to each one of those years. In the beginning, I was much like other "moms with a camera" and I just took photos of my friends and coworker's children as favors or for fun. At that time. I would have never believed that 20 years in the future, I would have photographed thousands of babies and children and would be supporting 22 franchise owners who have the same passion as myself.

All year, I have been reflecting on, not just the beginning of the business, but also the start of franchising. What continues to surprise me is that it's already been 10 years since we began our first franchise with Will Smith in Brentwood, Tennessee. Watching the other locations grow from Phoenix, Arizona to Charleston, South Carolina has humbled me by seeing the business model that my husband Jamie and I started improve the lives of other families. Will recently shared his story on a live webinar. We have that conversation available on our YouTube channel if you would like to hear about his personal and business journey. We have so many wonderful stories from other franchise owners and we invite you to hear what they have to say also.

Then & Now

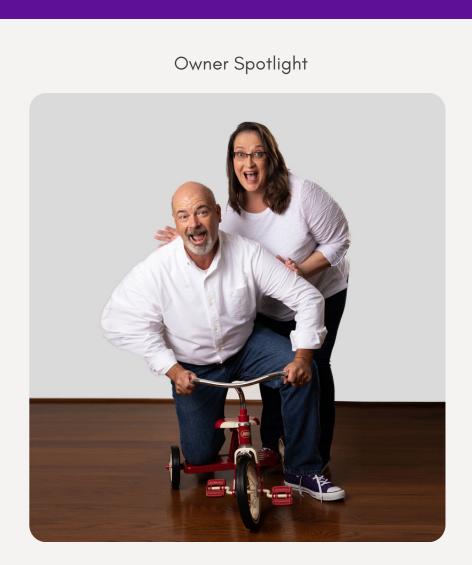

Hopefully, if you're reading this, we have also captured some smiles and moments of your children along the way. If there are some that you'd like to share with us, please tag us on social media:

Joey & Sandi Fotheringham

A Leap of Faith:

To Make Kids Smile in Preschools

While many people were learning to pivot in their jobs during 2020, Joey and Sandi Fotheringham, in Katy, Texas were looking for franchise opportunities to take a leap of faith with a career change.

With a blended family of 10 children and 8 grandchildren, Joey and Sandi have collected an impressive collection of portraits of their family on their walls. They knew if they valued those school pictures so much, there would be other local families who would also value quality portraits provided in a preschool setting. After landing on Spoiled Rotten Photography through a google search, they couldn't find another opportunity that would teach and train them to produce the quality of images they saw on our website.

After two extensive careers in the telecom industry, Sandi and Joey decided to combine their love of photography and children and share their talents in a way where they could work and play together. "Leaving the strict corporate structure was a much needed change," Joey explained.

The System Works

Founder, Melissa Tash, says "Joey and Sandi are both driven by a goal, but I can say their quick success has come by following our laid out franchise systems and processes, hard work, as well as being teachable and asking questions from other franchise owners. Joey has become a mentor and cheerleader to many of our newer franchise owners in recent years. It makes me proud to see how far they have come in three years as business owners!" "We've always had so much fun playing and photographing little kiddo's — now, we get to be Nana and PopPop at work!"

Joey and Sandi didn't let the closed doors and face mask barriers of 2020, stop their determination to build the foundation of their business and start making solid relationships with the schools they began to partner with for easy picture days.

If you follow Spoiled Rotten Photography Katy on social media, you have probably caught Joey juggling, acting silly with a squeaky pig and constantly adding value to their local community. The partnership with the schools they photograph goes beyond taking just pictures of their children and you will often see Joey promoting enrollment opportunities or special community events the preschools are hosting.

Joey and Sandi have successfully built a thriving preschool photography business in their corner of Houston, Texas. They continue to scale and add photographers to their team who love the process of making kids smile just as much as they do!

Award Winning

It has been a full circle feeling for Joey and Sandi as they are now able to produce award-winning images for their clients and train and inspire their associate photographers to produce the same quality of beautiful images!

SANTA LOVES: Spoiled Rotten Photographers!

That's right! Santa loves to receive calls from our franchise photographers! That's because he gets to meet and greet so many good boys, girls and pets! There were two franchise locations that welcomed Santa to their photo sessions for generosity projects. Spoiled Rotten Photography San Antonio and Santa raised money for SJRC Belong, an organization that helps place children in foster and adoptive families. Carrie Fischel had interested families sign up for portrait sessions and money raised went directly to SRJC Belong of San Antonio, Texas. Spoiled Rotten Photography Huntsville, Alabama raised money for the Greater Huntsville Humane Society (GHHS) with their Claus for Paws event. The sessions were held at a local business, The Flower Shoppe of Providence. The event raised money for the local animal shelter needs and pet adoptions.

"It is my pleasure and joy to donate time to support foster families and the humane society spreading love and holiday magic to all. May the love of God be with you during this Christmas season."
